Description
Schulhaus Europa e.V. is a non-profit organisation in Leipzig specialised in vocational education and human rights. The company employs three people and works with a pool of companies and freelancers, including teachers and experts. The association participates in Erasmus+ programmes, KA102, KA105, KA2, KA3, AMIF and EASME IEE projects. For EU VET mobility projects, we work as host, intermediary and sending organisation and therefore have experience in organising linguistic, technical and cultural training. Through Schulhaus Europa's good knowledge of the companies in the city of Leipzig as well as of Saxony in general, many EU VET-mobility projects were successfully realised. Participants were able to experience the daily workflow as well as learn and personally experience the differences and parallels between the foreign companies and their counterparts in their home countries. Due to living together with their peers in a foreign country they have also gained a new perspective and understanding of life abroad. By participating in mobility programmes, the trainees promote a cultural and technical exchange with their colleagues in the hosting companies. Both sides consistently report the positive benefits acquired by attending the work programmes, as outline above.

Thus, Schulhaus is continuously improving and increasing its participation in placement programmes. At the end of a project, the participants have enriched their professional skills, improved their language level as well as had the chance to live and experience life abroad.
